Philosophy Instructor, Bioethics

The College of Idaho invites applications for the position of part-time instructor of philosophy to teach one course in Spring 2024. We seek candidates who share the College’s commitment to creating an equitable and inclusive academic community.

The successful candidate will teach a bioethics course with an emphasis in medical ethics. The Philosophy and Religious Studies Department can provide support as needed in developing and teaching the course.

Qualifications
A Master’s degree in an appropriate area of study or equivalent professional experience is required. Preference will be given to candidates with prior teaching experience.

Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from The College of Idaho.

Application instructions
Send a cover letter, a CV, and contact information for three references to HR@collegeofidaho.edu with the subject line “Philosophy Instructor.” Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The College
With over 132 years of history, the College of Idaho is an inclusive community of exceptional learning that challenges the ambitious and forges pathways to success and purpose. The College strives to improve access to higher education for underrepresented individuals and groups. Its efforts have been recognized with high rankings for social mobility by the Wall Street Journal and U.S. News & World Report. Almost 15% of the students are international students with 65 countries represented and a third of the students identifying as first-generation students.

The College of Idaho is proud to be an equal opportunity employer. We are committed to attracting, retaining, and maximizing the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce. The College does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, disability, national and ethnic origin, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other basis protected by law.

Community
The College of Idaho is located in Caldwell, a rural community with a vibrant downtown that is on the western edge of the Boise metropolitan area, providing opportunities for both small-town and city living. The diverse landscape of the area consists of river valleys, high desert, and mountains, which support a wide range of recreational activities. Boise and the surrounding area also provide opportunities to enjoy a rich and wide array of cultural experiences and artistic venues.
