Visiting Assistant Professor, Director of Choral Activities

The College of Idaho seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor of Music to serve as Director of Choral Activities for the 2020-2021 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates with a PhD or DMA in choral conducting or music education (ABD considered). Preference will also be given to candidates with college- or secondary-level teaching and conducting, background as a vocalist and vocal instructor, ability to work collaboratively, and passion to work at a liberal arts college.

Primary activities include directing the College of Idaho Chorale and Chamber Singers. Additional duties include teaching beginning conducting, advanced conducting, and music education or pedagogy courses.

The successful candidate will create high quality, cohesive performance programs that are both artistic and educational. The successful candidate will also be expected to be active in recruiting prospective students, including work with directors and students in local secondary school choral programs. Arranging and leading a choir tour with the C of I Chamber Singers to a regional destination in the Western U.S. is also anticipated.

Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from the College.

Review of candidates will begin May 4, 2020 and continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy that clearly articulates a commitment to liberal arts education, recordings of choral rehearsals and performances (15–20 minutes each, YouTube link preferred), recording of a representative solo vocal performance, copies of two representative programs of conducted concerts, unofficial transcripts, and three letters of recommendation.

Send materials to HR@collegeofidaho.edu with subject “VAP Choir.” Additional information may be requested of qualified candidates as we move through the applicant review process.
